The Senate Has Completed All Business Betore It

AND THE HOUSE HAS LITTLE TO DO.

South Houses Will Finish Business and Senators and Representatives Will Rest From Their Labors

Washington, August 19.-There is good on to believe that the week that opens y will see the close of the se on of the fifty-third congress. The work of the senate is finished; the last of the appropriation bills was completed and the ence reports adopted Friday, and there is nothing now for the senate to do but clean up the fag ends of a very busy and a very entertaining session.

About the only thing that keeps senators were is the tariff bill, and the general imion now is that the president will perbecome a law just as soon as he treasury officials are ready to carry it into effect. That he does not intend to now being prepared at the government

Railroad Men in Conference.

A conference was held here today by representatives of the railroad brotherhoods for the discussion of matters affecting the old organizations, as a result of the work of the American Railway Union during the recent strike. Among those present were Grand Chief E. P. Sargent and F. W. Arnold, of the Locomotive Firemen; Grand Chief C. Wilkinson, Messrs. Morrisey and Terrell, of the Botherhood of Trainmen, and M. V. Powell, grand chief of the order of Railroad Telegraphers. An agreement was reached to endeavor to secure the reinstatement of the members of the order who joined the American Railway Union, and having since repeated of their course, are applying for membership in their old lodges.

Mr. Wilkinson said after the conference that many of the men were out of positions since the strike and had appliel for readmission to the brotherhoods, confessing that they had been swell away by the Railroad Men in Conference.

"The trainmen lost several lodges by desertion to the American Railway Union," he said. "Applications are being made for a renewal of charter of all of them. We agreed to take the men back, and will do all in our power to have the railroads lift the boycott against them, for we are assured that the men will not again desert their lodges under similar circumstances."

"The Order of Railway Telegraphers," said Mr. Powell, "was fortunate in the desertion of a few of its members. We lost but two lodges—one at Helena, and the other at Ripon."

The officials of the orders left Chicago tonight to effect the reorganization of the lodges, and will make personal appeals, to the various roads to reinstate their men. As the brotherhoods stood firm against the strikes, the officials believe they will get repentant members back to their places.

TROUBLESOME TIMES EXPECTED. Miners Disposed to Ignore the Colum

Pittsburg, Pa., August 19.-Troublesome Pittsburg, Pa., August 19.—Troublesome times are in prospect for the coal miners in the Pittsburg district, and the fall and winter season may witness a repetition of the experiences of last winter. Several mining companies show a disposition to repudiate the Columbus, O., agreement. To meet the threatening emergencies the miners' national organization has opened permanent headquarters in Pittsburg, and national officials will be in constant attendance. Denver, Col., August 19.—The twenty-fivemile road race from Denver to Lupton, over the famous Denver course, came off today. The weather was fine and the attendance crowded many trains of eight coaches each. Seventy-five men started, including many of the wheelmen who were coaches each. Seventy-five men started; including many of the wheelmen who were in Denver to attend the League of American Wheelmen meet. Titus, Sanger, Johnson, Callihan and others from the east, and Zeigler, Wells and Foster, of California, were entered, but did not start. The scratch men in the race were Bird of St. Paul, William Baimbridge of Chicago, Dodson of Chicago, A. Gardener of Chicago, and C. M. Murphy of Brooklyn. The first dozen men over the tape fiad heavy handicaps and Gardener, of Chicago, won the time prize in remarkably fast time, considering the stiff breeze which blew in the riders' faces. Philadelphia, August 19.—District assem-bly, No. 1, of the Knights of Labor, held bly, No. 1, of the Knights of Labor, held a meeting tonight which is said to have ended unpleasantly for General Master Workman James R. Sovereign. The assembly has been the bone of contention between the Sovereign and anti-Sovereign factions for some time past, and tonight's meeting was attended by Sovereigh, General Secretary Hayes, T. B. Maguire and Henry B. Martin, of the executive board, in an attempt to settle the difficulties. The session was so stormy that Sovereign is said to have called in a policeman to clear the hall. Not succeeding in this, it is asserted that the opposition forcibly ejected Sovereign, while his followers took precipitous leave. Sovereign denies the forcible ejection story.

Searching for His Sister.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 19.—J. Stanley, of Selma, Ala., was in town today in search of his sister, Xilla, who left her home in anger with her parents and brother for opposing the attentions of her betrothed. She drew $400 from the bank and disappeared. She was traced to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, but the indications now are that she went on to St. Louis. Her family stands high socially in Selma. Her lover is aiding in the search.

CHINESE INCREASING THE GARRISON

Foreigners Are Insulted by the Chinese and Japanese—Coin Forbidden to Be Used—The Japanese Loan

London, August 19 .- The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News gives in today's dispatches a gloomy view of affairs at Wei-rai-Wei, the fortfield city on the Shantung promontory. There is little this Chinese stronghold shortly, despite the tradition of the Chinese that the place is impregnable. The lights along the promontory have been extinguished and the buoys have been removed and the Chinese are constantly adding to the defenses by laying torpedoes and submarine mines. Nevertheless, on three successive nights in the last week, Japanese topedo boats have entered the harbor and reconnoitered the forts. The crews of the Chinese torpedo boats, which lie in the harbor, had no inkling of the nearness of the enemy until the Japanese vessels were leaving. The Weihai-Wei forts then opened fire, but it was too late to accomplish anything.

The success of these three Japanese expeditions has spoken greatly the confidence of the army in the impregnability of Weihai-Wei. The supposition is that the Japanese are preparing for a combined land and sea attack on the stronghold. The garrison is being increased to meet such an attack and heavy guns are being added to the artillery in the interior line of de-

The foreigners who were employed in the Wei-hal-Wei arseral are leaving the place. Nearly all the Englishmen and Scotchmen have gone, and within a few days only natives are likely to be left in the shops of the arsenal.

The feeling against foreigners is running high among the military of the city. The soldiers have fired several times upon foreigners who were leaving the shops, and have been checked only with difficulty by their officers. Often the foreigners are reproached and insulted as they depart. None of them have been wounded as yet, but their escape has been due almost solely to the strenuous efforts of the officers who have been charged with the responsibility for their safety.

The main Japanese squadron has been sighted again in the guif of Pe-chi-Li. The use of Japanese coins has been for-

Seizing Suspicious Vessels.

London, August 19.—Government officers have gone aboard another vessel in the Tyne because they were convinced that she was fitting for service in the Chinese-Japan war. The work on the vessel has been pushed with the greatest haste since the declaration of war, and recently ma-terials of war have been placed aboard her. As far as can be ascertained neither China nor Japan ordered the vessel. It is thought that she may have been fitting for a family council to be held soon after merely for speculative purposes, her ownres intending to offer her to China or Japan after getting away from English waters. Despite the presence of the officers work on the vessel has not been stopped. More seizures of vessels are expected. Troops of the Sultan Defeated by the Kabyles.

Tangiers, August 19.-Europeans who arrived here yesterday from Mazagan say that the troops of the young sultan have been defeated by the rebellious Kabyles. They tried to take the rebel position by storm and were repulsed after a hard fight. Their loss was very heavy. After the battle the sultan's troops fied in great disorder, and those who escaped the pursuing tribesmen sought refuge at Mazagan. The inhabitants of that city are panic tricken. Narrow Escape of a Lady from Being Buried Alive.

Madisonville, Tex., August 19.—At Midway, in this county, Mrs. Lucinda Allen was seized with colic. Physicians and nurse, after six hours of attention pronounced her dead. She was dressed and placed in her coffin, and just as the cortege was about to start to the graveyard, a neighbor asked for leat look at her. She thought she discovered a last look at her. She thought she discovered signs of animation. The suspected corpse was taken from the coffin, placed in a tub of water and soon revived, thus escaping being buried alive.

The news that the tariff ques-tion had been virtually settled in Washington filliped American stocks on the bourse, also the mining and banking shares. The optimistic views of those nearest the export trade have not been shared by the press, which affects to have a rather small opinion of the new measure The Koelisniche Zeitung regards the ac ceptance of the Gorman bill as a merely provisional act. The new tariff, it says, is merely a resting place beyond which lies the plan of more radical revision.

The Kreus Zenung says: "The new tariff breaks definitely with the McKinley system, and that is something, but it benefits Germany only as far as the woolen trade is concerned."

The Vossische Zeitung, a rabid free trad-er, thinks little of the Gorman bill, and expects from it only a very slight benefit for German manufacturers.

The Tageblatt says: "The revision of the McKinley act has come too late to help materially that branch of our industry connected most closely with the in trade. Military Maneuvers.

Military Maneuvers.

The emperor's orders to the war department to seek a new field, unaffected by cholera for the east Prussian maneuvers, have disturbed many plans. Nevertheless, it was peremptory and the war department's arrangements must be altered accordingly. As soon as the emperor landed at Kiel and learned that the Vistula was affected, he commanded that the plan for the naval maneuvers be changed. The combined operations of the army and navy along the Neufahrwasser, in the neighborhood of Danzig, were to be held on September 9th and 10th, but they have been absoluted and no maneuvers of any kind will be held at the mouth of the Vistula. The new arrangements have not been made yet. It is certain, however, that the date of the operations has not been changed. The troops will begin work September 5th and will continue it for eight days. The intention of crossing the river Nogat, near Marenburg, on the night of September 8th must be given up if the sham battlefield be selected in a district far from the Vistula, but if the troops operato anywhere near the river the troops will make this crossing, which the emperor regards as one of the most important features of the maneuvers. He hopes to witness it in the company of the czarowitz from the imperial tent to be erected at the Nogat bridge. Unless the cholera epidemic spreads alarmingly the czarowitz will be present throughout the maneuvers. He will be quartered in the old castle at Marenburg. The Archduke Charles Stephen, of Austria, the emperor's other distinguished guest, will watch the naval maneuvers from the iron clad Koenig Wilhelm.

DID NOT LOSE HER CENTERBOARD. Englishmen Think Gould Guilty of

London, August 19.—The Times tomorrow will say that Captain Haff on Saturday telegraphed from Southampton to Mr. Gould, who was at Cowes, stating that he had dis-covered that the yacht Vigilant's centerboard had not been displaced from its fastenings and lost, but that it had been jam-med in the trunk.

The Times will add that some further explanation of the affair seems to be required when all the circumstances are taken into consideration. It may be further said that on returning to Cowes Saturday evening members of the sailing committee were anxious to learn how the accident had occurred. They telegraphed to Captain Dia-per, the pilot of the Vigilant, to come to the Royal Yacht squadron's parlors, but up to 6 o'clock no notice had been taken of the dis-patch. Lord Wolverton has withdrawn the cup he offered to the winning yacht and has decided to send it to the Royal Dorset Club to be raced for Friday.

Baltimore, Md., August 19.—One hundred members of the army of the commonweal were released from the house of correction this morning and were started for Cincinnati, O., over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Governor Brown had a conference with the imprisoned Coxeyites a few days ago and agreed to pardon them provided the habeas corpus proceedings, which had been instituted at Upper Mariboro, be withdrawn. This provise was readily accepted by the men, who also agreed to leave the state if given their liberty. Late last night the governor went to the house of correction ad selected 100 of those who had given western addresses. They were placed in two coaches, which were brought to Baltimore, and attached to the Cincinnati express, leaving here this morning. The men are in charge of a squad of Baltimore and Ohio detectives, who will see to it that they arrive at their destination safely.

Bumor That It Was the Work of the Dalton Gang, Who Are Trying to Rob the Bank at Fort Smith,

Fort Smith, Ark., August 19.-Last night four powder houses of the Speer Hardware Company, located two miles from here on the Poteau river, exploded. The powder houses are total wrecks. A small cabin near by, the home of Mrs. Cook, was blown to splinters. Mrs. Cook, her daughter and an infant, were hurled into eternity. The powder house centained 1,200 pounds of dynamite and 300 kegs of powder. The wood, Jenny Lind, Hackett, Kavanaugh and many places nearly twenty miles away. In Fort Smith thousands of dollars worth of property was destroyed. The opera house, Boston store, arcade, J. J. Little, Myers & Co., Vaughan hardware store, Fagan, Bourland and Western Union buildings were severely damaged, while along Sixth street and Garrison avenue is a continued story of wrecks. No explanation can be given for the explosion. It could not have been an accident, and many rumors are flying about. One is to the effect that a remnant of the Dalton gang is about to rob the bank here.

A Young Man in Enfaula Shot by Officers While Burglarising.

Montgomery, Ala., August 19.—(Special.)—
Last night, Henry Hodge, a young man of about twenty-three years old, and well known in Eufaula, was caught attempting to rob the store of J. Konsky, in Eufaula. Two policemen made the young man surrender after shooting him in the leg and face. It was dark, and when the young would-be burglar shot at the officers they returned the fire with the results stated. Hodge is a nephew if Mrs. C. F. Eizele, wife of a well-known butcher in Eufaula.

Eufaula. Killed by Lightning.

News reached here this morning of the killing of a negro girl and of the mortally wounding of a negro boy by lightning last night on Dr. Morgan's plantation, about nine miles north of Eufaula. The family were eating supper when lightning struck the chimney with the above result. The girl was killed instantly. Other members of the family were severely shocked.

A MASKED ROBBER

a Passenger and Holds the Trainmen Up.
Lufkin, Tex., August 19.—Yesterday evening, about 7 o'clock, an engine on the State road was running from a station called Wells to a coaling camp about eighteen miles from here. About a mile and a half from Wells, the engineer observed a pile of ties across the track. He reversed his engine and all on board jumped. Among the party was Dr. Dreweny, of Rusk. As he alighted on the ground a masked man stepped out from the brush and shot him dead. Holding the others off with a pistol, he robbed the body of the dead doctor, obtaining $20 in cash, a check on the First National bank of Rusk for $25, and a gold watch and chain. Cattle Dying of Texas Fever.

Topeka, Kas. August 19.—The recent shipment of Texas cattle into Lim and Anderson counties and the discovery that they were infected with Texas fever is causing much fear among the stock men of eastern Kanras. The infected cattle were shipped in by the Missouri, Kanras and Texas Railroad Company. The attorney general, in directing the attorneys of those counties to investigate and bring suits, says the prosecution should be filed against the men who shipped them in and not against the railroad company. It is stated that over 400 head of native cattie have already died with the fever.

LOCKED IN, THEY FIRED THEIR CELL

Wild Excitement for Awhile, but Order on Prevailed-Assistance Bendered by Some of the Prisoners.

Five desperate prisoners made a daring attempt to burn the Fulton county jail early this morning, and it was nearly o'clock before the fire was extinguished.

The fire was located in a dangerous ace, and for awhile the excitement was intense, but beyond a hole in the root and the destruction of one cell no damage

Shortly after 12 o'clock Watchman Coyne, who was strolling in the yard, noticed smoke arising from a flue about the middle of the building. He shouted the slarm at once and Guard Will McMurtrey, who was in charge, rushed to the cell department. The second floor, upon which ost of the prisoners were confined, was filled with blinding smoke. In cell 21 a small blaze was seen burning amidst the rafters high overhead. Five negro men velling, groaning and crying were confined

Some of the most reliable prisoners on the lower floor were pressed into service. While McMurtrey was fighting the flames, J. S. Stripling, a United States prisoner, took charge of the keys and stationed himself at the outer door. Fred Cooper, who is occupying Ryan's old cell, was placed in charge of the desperate quintet.

It soon became evident that the nre could not be controlled by the men at the jail and the alarm was sent in. Nos. 2 and 5. with the chemical engine, arrived in a few moments. Foreman Jake Emil took charge and soon had his men at work. It was a hard fire to fight. The blaze, making its way slowly but steadily in the woodwork between the outer stone wall and the slate roof, was difficult to reach. For some time the efforts of the firemen were directed towards the blaze on the inside, but the small cell made it impossible for them to get at it.

In a few moments the men had a ladder stretched to the slate roof and were enopping away at a lively rate. In this way the dangerous blaze was reached and it required only a short while to extinguish it.

For a while, however, it looked as it the whole building was doomed, and it required all the energies of McMurtrey and his assistants to manage the prisoners Cooper took charge of the negro incendiaries and led them, heavily handcuffed, to a dungeon below the building. All of the men are short-termed and had been jailed recently. Gus Baker, charged with cheating and swindling; Larry Wright, charged with assault and battery; John Riggins, charged with larceny from the house; Charles Washington, charged with carrying consealed weapons, and Charles Hill, a boy fourteen years old, were the prisoners in cell 21, where the fire originated.

All of the men were emphatic in their assertions of their innocence and claim to have been asleep until awakened by the alarm of the guard.

Used Their Blankets. In order to set fire to the building the prisoners removed the plastering from the upper ceiling, exposing the laths and wood. Between these they stuffed the blankets upon which they were sleeping. These, it is thought, were greased with the fat meat which had been saved for the purpose in order to make the material inflammable. Small pieces of meat were found on the cell floor afterwards.

During the fire some of the more nervous prisoners were excited and gave vent to their emotions through the bars. Most of them, however, remained silent and looked on in mute astonishment and fear.

In addition to Cooper and Stripling, Wall Dickinson and Hicken were other inmates who rendered valuable assistance.

Savannah, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—An unknown white man, about forty-five years old, was run over and killed by an electric car on the Coast Line railroad, near Anderson's pavilion, at Thunderbolt, about 10 o'clock tonight. There were no lights in the pavilion and it was a hard matter for the motorman to see the man, who at the time was sitting on the track, just around the curve, and who is supposed to have been intoxicated.

The man was struck on the right shoulder and knocked under the car, both wheels passing over him. He was mash d into a pulp, and when reached was dead. Dr. Felton had been invited to meet Mr. A. W. Fite in joint debate, but would have none of it, though like Douglas of old, he was in his own hall. If there is any one characteristic about the old gentleman political eccentricities, it is wariness; and with such a foeman as Mr. Fite to measure swords with him, it is but natural that The doctor, some days ago, delivered speech that stirred up the good people of Bartow county from center to circumference. It is said his utterances bordered on the anarchistic, and not only strengthened the democratic party but spread consternation and fear in the ranks of the populists.

It was, therefore, this warning note that brought such a large crowd to Cartersville, and Dr. Felton's refusal to meet Mr. Fite in joint debate was construed to mean that he knew what would happen. The speeches of Major Bacon and Mr.

Cobb were masterful efforts and refuted every charge brought against the demo cratic party by the populists. Both were applauded to the echo and enthused the democrats to a determination to exert every effort to carry the seventh congressional district by a larger majority than it has ever before registered.

SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS FOR IT

The New Tariff Law, in Opening Entrance for Foreign Trade, Assures It—Colonef Avery Summarises the Situation.

Washington, 'August 19.—(Special.)—The exposition today passed into a great national reality. The president put the public seal on it that made it American. Government approval commends it to the world, and invites co-operation for international times to get national backing in money. The programme of the masterful expostion directory in securing from a majority of the states instructions to their senators and representatives in congress to support the enterprise for their own interest in its results evinced the splendid ability and wisdom of the management and secured an appropriation against both jealous rivalry and theoretic but honest disapproval of such

A majority of congress stood thus for an exhibit, and every contest to defeat it was a benefit to the exposition in bringing it more fully to public knowledge, enlarging the conception of its value and strengthening it in friends and sympathy.

That the practical business men of the United States asked its statesmen to aid the exposition for the common good made it sure, as well as proving its solid merit. A Timely Conception.

All public conditions are ripe for this exposition. It is just the thing for the time. In both a business and political aspect it hits. Atlanta out-did herself when she thought up and started it. A depressed era was upon us, connected with the tariff on foreign trade, that mainly supports the gov-ernment, and over which the country was convulsed, and gigantic parties in a great struggle for supremacy.

Atlanta has met the depression with a gailant and practical project to create new foreign business in which every part of the country is interested, and a majority of the states far beyond Georgia

Tariff Reform Helps the Exposition. And now, right upon the passage of the measure by congress to further the great object of the exposition, so helpful to all interests, tariff reduction takes place, just at the seasonable moment, to open our ports to increased foreign business through the very southern direct trade that the south has been successfully pressing for four years, and which Georgia started.

It does look as if luck is with Atlanta. as well as a spurt of daring enterprise. Senator Patrick Walsh, who has shown an incomparable capacity and fitness for his exalted duties, among other magnificent things he has done, has in a speech in the senate made a comparative analysis of the Mc-Kipley tariff leave and the present new Kinley tariff law and the present new tariff measure demonstrating the merits of the new law against hostile criticism, vindicating democratic action and espect ally emphasizing the value of this exposi-tion in its effort to build up our South American trade from the large cut in the duties on the articles of our commerce with those countries.

A Valuable Help to the Exposition. I have the pleasure of stating the acquisition of a most important helper to the exposition in the person of the able head of the government bureau of South American When starting out on the work of bringing the exposition before the country I called upon him and he has given a hearty co-operation to the enterprise. His bureau was organized in 1889 to further the very object of the exposition, viz: establish larger trade relations with the countries south of the United States, and it has gathered and disseminated information here about those lands while acquainting their people with our country.

Monthly bulletins are issued by the bureau and sent by the thousands, translated into foreign languages, to those countries. The value of this aid to our exposition can be understood. It officially informs the pub ic men and trade leaders in those countries fully and regularly about the exposition without expense, that would cost thou-

The August bulletin to be out in a few days will have an ac with a map of Atlanta and her commercial connections, translated into Spanish and other tongues. And each future monthly bulletin will contain such matter as the exposition directory desire to give out.

In addition to this Mr. Furbish has sent, at my request, to the exposition all of the official publications of the bureau for reference for information of every kind about those countries, from which nd visitors from everywhere can get the facts about those lands.

Atlanta Is on Her Mettle. Atlanta has undertaken a big thing. No nan has anywhere intimated a doubt of her success. Such is her repute. That she will sustain her prestige is sure. She has done all things that she mas tried so far. She is on the brink of a great achievement. Th country is gazing at her, and with full faith. She will need all hands in this crisis f her career, and she has the stimulus that her success will be a vast business benefaction to the whole union.

COUNCIL TODAY.

All Things Point to the Exposition Being The Pryor Street Grade Question Will Be Settled

CITIZENS WILL PROBABLY PROTEST

The Street Committee's Report Is Favor-able to the Change—Other Matters to Come Up Before Council.

A variety of matters of more or less im ortance will come up at the regular meetone of the council this afternoon.

One of the questions to be determined by the city fathers is that recently raised concerning the proposed change of grade on South Pryor street. The report of the street committee, which was reached last Thursday after a hearing was had from the citizens directly interested, is in favor of the change.

But the report did not go through without opposition. There are several citizens who are not in favor of the change as they say it will damage their property, and it is understood that they will have legal representatives at the macting this afternoon to sentatives at the meeting this afternoon to ener a protest. They say that the grade will be lowered about two feet and will thus spoil to a great extent property ad-jacent to the grade. This protest, however, will come from a minority of the property holders on the street, and may not influence the council to refuse to adopt the report of the street committee. As has been stated in The Constitution, certain citizens say that if the grade is changed they will sue

Work has been suspended since last Wednesday, pending a settlement of the question at issue. It will be resumed tomorrow, no matter what the council decides upon this afternoon.

Another matter that will come before the eouncil this afternoon will be a voluminous document from the board of police commissioners, containing an entirely new list of rules for the government of the police and detective forces. These rules have already been adopted by the board, but have to be ratified by the council before they can be enforced. The rules are more full and the roughly they become the rules are more full and thorough than heretofore. Every point about which there has been doubt in the past is covered in a very explicit manner, and policemen will have only to refer to their book of rules to find what to do in any given case. Rules for the detective force are set forth

n the new list. When the list of rules now of the force was adopted by the council there was no such thing as a detective force, and the creation of this department has likewise created a necessity for more

Something of interest will probably be heard also from the city prison committee, which for a month past has been investigat-ing the condition of the city's prisons, and has doubtless uncovered many facts of nterest regarding the city stockade and the

IN THE CHURCHES.

What Occurred in the Various Sanctnaries Yesterday.

Rev. R. V. Atkisson, pastor of the Central Congregational church, preached on the parable of the sower yesterday morning. He began by describing the time and place, when and where our Lord spoke this para-ble. Much of the Bible was made in open air, amid the scenes of rural life. It has nature in it and caught a great deal of sun-shine, for no roof covered the Messiah's head, and no walls shut him in from the world. His pulpit was the prow of the boat, the mountain and the projecting rock. On this occasion he spoke from a boat. His lakeside congregation was composed problakeside congregation was composed prob-ably of all classes, but chiefly those from the rural districts. He calls attention to the plain which lay out before them, coverthe plain which lay out before them, cover-ed already with the spring wheat. The prominent thought in the parable is the soil and how it received the seed. He says the kingdom of heaven is like that. Like Not the sower, for Christ is the sower; nor the seed, or the golden rips harvest, but like yonder rolling fields, already covered with the waving harvest. The sower was the Master, the seed His truth, and the hearts of men the soil. One sower and one kind of seed, but a varied soil. It is not an outgrowth of intellectual, philosophical and ethical culture, but a seed brought from the skies by the sower and planted in the human heart. The truth is receive through human faculties. "Take heed ho through human faculties. "Take heed how ye hear." Let us notice the four kinds of bearers represented in the parable and fin which class you are. First, some fell by the wayside and were devoured. The way in which class you are. First, some fell by the wayside and were devoured. The wayside hearer's constitute a large class. The beaten paths ran through the fields and seed falling on these places never worked down to the moist soil and took root. The soil was too hard. The fault was not in the nature of the soil, but in its condition. So truth falls on many hearts, but is brushed away before it gets roothold. The spiritual taste is often vitiated and the soul has no tender sympathy for the sweet truths of the heavenly kingdom. In the second class some are found.

"Some fell upon stony places." Much of Palestine was stony. The soil was not deep. The seed soon sprang up and the heat of the sun soon withered it up. No depth of soil and no room for root. Soon it pressed the rock. This represents a class which we can call shallow-rooted hearers. The sermon is, received quickly and much stir is made, but the move is a spasmodic one. The whole soul is not enlisted. They are stimply surface creatures. They can't resist temptation. They are selfish enough to want to get to heaven, but they mean to barely enter. They are not fully determined but are wanting to be saved for fear they will miss something. They are often noisy and very active at first, but soon temptation sweeps them away. It is easy to fall into this class. Keep out of it and away from it.

into this class. Reep out of it and away from it.

The third class is different from both the preceding ones. Here the soil is deep and fertile. It has all of the elements needed for growth and the seed is properly planted, but other seed choke it out. Here we find the god Mammon, or worldly class. The wheat and tares are growing together. Strong, determined souls, but much of the seed of sin is already deeply rooted therein and the growth is prevented.

Many are in this class. See the pale, bloodless characters about you who profess growth is prevented.

Many are in this class. See the pale, bloodless characters about you who profess Christ, but the Christian light is made obscure by the rank over-growth of the evil. The tall corn is hidden by the rank growth of weeds. The worldly minded are everywhere. Often it is said the church is so heavily loaded with Indifferent and bad members that it is with great difficulty it moves. Are you in the way of progress? Is your life full of love of wealth, fame and pleasure that no one can discover a sign of Christ in you? But it is not the fortune of all the seed to perish sooner or later, "for some seed fell into good ground."

The good ground is the heart of the honest hearer. I am glad to find this fact stated, notwithstanding the long believed and advocated opinion of man's total depravity. It is encouraging to know that Christ teaches that all men are not totally depraved, but there is some good ground.

Spiritual truths find a place in many hearts and these grow and brar fruit. This is an encouraging fact that all preachers and teachers should act upon. The sowing is not in vain. At some stage in life we may believe all hearts are capable of receiving truth. Even the hard nacked soil may become soft. Divine seed can affect the soil even. Call is with us; let us be loyal to Him and faithful to our cause.

CITY NOTES.

-One of the biggest excursions of the season went to Cumberland and St. Simon's Saturday night. In the excursion were a large party of Knoxville people, and a pleas ant time was had.

-The criminal branch of the city court begins work this morning. The docket is filled with cases, all of minor interest and importance. Very few cases of note are to be tried. The court will be kept busy week, however. -Mr. Fulton Colville returned from New York last night via Savannah. He spent two weeks in New York state, taking in Saratoga while away. "New York business men are pretty well satisfied with the settlement of the tariff situation," last night. "They were glad to be rid of the uncertainty which has been a drawback to business. They confidently expect better times to prevail at once. In fact, the general tendency is already to the

-Miss May Shearer, the sick chorus girl, is improving. Dr. Huzza, her physician, states that she will be well in a week, perhaps, but it will be longer than that before she will be able to travei. Saturday evening a number of young men at the Bell house heard of her condition, and in a few minutes $20 was subscribed for her assistance. The amount was turned over to her by a committee of young men.

-The Atlanta newspaper men have all received copies of the minutes of roceedings of the convention of the international Press League held in Atlanta May 1st, 2d and 3d. The copies are neatly printed, and are the work of Mr. Harry D. Vaought, of The Buffalo Courier, the secetary of the league. A full account or the proceedings is given, and a nappy tribute is paid to Atlanta. The minutes re printed in far better form than ever before, and the work accomplished by the meeting held in Atlanta is greater than that at any previous meeting of the eague. -One evening this week a entertainment will be given at the Edge-wood Avenue theater to be known as an "Evening With Folsom." It will be given by the best amateur talent in the city and will be one of the most enjoyable af-fairs of the kind that has been recently given in Atlanta.

-At Forsyth last week a young man named Ross was committed to jail for the murder of his father-in-law, a farmer named Gibson. It is said that the young man made improper proposals to his wife's sister, and when remonstrated with by his father-in-law, he killed the latter. The attorneys representing the state wer Berner & Bloodworth and Solicitor Beck.

Macon, Ga., August (19.-(Special.)-Ex-Policeman William Jones, who shot and killed Henry Fields, in a dispute over a 3150 transaction, about a month ago, died in jail this afternoon. Just after the killing Jones fled and remained in a swamp for a week or so, where he was stricken with fever. He voluntarily returned to the city and delivered himself to Sheriff Westcott. Since being in jail he has been quite sick and has suffered severely. He was advised to have an operation performed, but always refused until yesterday, when he consented. Today at the jall, shortly before noon, physicians administered ether to him and the operation was just about successfully concluded when Jones gave one gasp and was dead. It is said that Jones had been affected with heart trouble. and because of this the ether killed him. His body was delivered to his wife and daughter and taken to their home for

An Important Circular.

In connection with the great Interstate Dixle fair to be held at Macon, the following highly interesting circular has been issued by Colonel William Glessner, commissioner of immigration, to all counties along the line of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway:

"Believing that the section traversed by the Georgia Southern road is as rich if not richer in agricultural resources than any section of Georgia, and that an exhibit from the counties along the line will demonstrate that belief to be a fact, I am very desirous that your county should make at this fair an exhibit of ist rich and varied resources. Such an exhibit would not only bring a rich reward in satisfaction of local pride, but would attract to your county a class of intelligent and industrious settlers. It would be an illustrated advertisement worth thousands of dollars. I wish you would urge upon your people the importance of making an exhibit and effect an organization for that purpose. The work should be begun immediately to secure the best results.

"In order to encourage such exhibits, the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad will transport all articles for such exhib its to and from the fair free, and will se cure and fit up suitable space in the build ings, so that the only cost to the counties is the collection and arrangement of the

Democrats of Richmond County Preparing for a Vigorous Campaign

MEETING OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Tom Watson Will Be Overwhelmingly Deleated for Congress-Appointment or a Campaign Committee.

Augusta, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The democrats of Richmond county are getting themselves in readiness for a vigorous campaign in the fall elections. The work of organisation is in progress. A large meeting of the executive committee and of prominent democrats was held yesterday. The field is being carefully surveyed. The outlook is being forecasted and the needs and necessities of the party are being shown and emphasized. Success is to be commanded through solidification of the party and through untiring work till the last ballots are polled on the election days. Richmond county is going to work hard to pile up Governor Atkinson's majority and to overwhelmingly defeat Tom Watson for ongress and to down the independent move-

The Campaign Committee. The preliminary work of these meetings has been the task of the formation of the campaign committee. The appointment of this committee by Chairman J. J. Doughty, of the executive committee of the county, was authorized by the committee. Chairman Doughty has been careful with this duty. He solicited the counsel of his committee and of eighteen or twenty prominent men in the party.

The Committee Ready. The full committee was made up last night and will be organized on Wednesday. The campaign committee selected will act cert with the state and district com-

At these meetings of democrats of course the Dutcher independent movement has been discussed. It was the consensus of opinion that the candidates under the Dutcher movement should be regarded as any other enemy of the party, and its standard bearer, Colonel Thomas G. Barrett, for the legislature, should be fought. Not much significance was given to the movement. It has not even been suggested that the Dutcher faction had any strength. However, some thought it a duty to snow them under well and effectively.

New Candidate. Captain W. H. Dickinson is out of the race for the legislature on the independent ticket. He, however, has withheld his formal withdrawal until August 23d. This holding back of the announcement has caused a great deal of speculation. This speculation is apparently very wild, but quite important, if true. It is pretty cer-tain, though, that Captain Dickinson's place on the ticket is to be filled, and that Cololegislative honors. The announcement of the new candidate will be made some time this week and he will come from the city, and not from the country district. There will be a labor candidate. It is said a wellknown contractor or an equally well-known printer will be in the race. This is the manner in which the candidacy is to be brought about. The printer is to be the candidate, and he it is who will take the place on the ticket made vacant by Captain Dickinson, whose friends say that he would never have been on the ticket had he fully understood the situation. new candidate will be brought out Thursday.

Third Party Tactics.

The third party in this county is not as inactive as some people believe they are. A meeting has been cailed in one of the militia districts for the purpose of endorsing E. S. Holley for the legislature. The meeting is to be held this week. Mr. James Barrett has called the populist executive committee of this county to meet at his suburban residence on Tuesday morning on business of importance. It is understood that the business in contemplation has direct bearing on county politics. Talks of a Fusion.

Justly or unjustly, all this talk has given basis for some people to allege that a fu-sion, expressed or tacit, is being arranged between the Dutcher faction and the populists. Such a fusion would have, it is thought, a disastrous effect on the Dutcher movement. There are those among the few supporters of the Dutcherites who have declared that they would wash their hands of Dutcherism if it became tainted with populism. It is a fact that one of the most promipent of the Dutcherites has said he would step down and out of that faction if there was opposition to the democrats "outside the party," he holding that Dutcherism is not a fight "against democracy, but a fight within democracy."

A report was in circulation that Mr. Dutcher would retire from the race for senator against Hon. Bryan Cumming, the democratic nominee, but he denied the runor to your correspondent.

There is no doubt but what Hons. William H. Fleming, John A. Barnes and D.

Fogarty, the democratic nominees for the legislature, will be elected, and Major J. C. C. Black returned to congress. An Augusta Invention.

Mr. Edward Allen Gleason, a young man of this city, who is a carpenter by trade, has become an inventor. He has contrived and produced something not before existing.
It is a guard rail for open electric street cars to prevent passengers gerting off the cars on the side the posts are located, also on the side of the double tracks.

It is simple in its construction, and its value is inestimable.

Mr. Gleason has struck a good thing in the guard rail, and he has filed a caveat which is a formal notice or caution that he has made application for patent rights on his invention.

Mr. Gleason has not yet been able to secure the privilege to have the guard rail tested on the street cars here, but he hopes that it will soon be given a trial. The guard rail appears to be a saie protection.

Mr. Gleason has given considerable stidy to this matter, and the result is he has invented a device which he feels sure is invented a device which he feels sure is bound to become popular and generally

The guard rail is constructed of one and a half inch gas pipe and consists of two rails (or pipes) the length of the car. The bottom rail (or pipe) is provided at each end with an elbow, into which a steel rod is fixed stationary, which moves freely through a T at each end of the top rail (or pipe), which is provided at each end, and at every other column with an arm, which is fixed into a T at the intersection of the arm and rail (or pipe). The arms and upper rail (or pipe) work on the same principle as a duplex awning. Between each column there are two nat bars loosely riveted so as to work freely, to the top rail (or pipe), each about six inches from the columns of the car. These are provided at their lower ends with a swivel, which works freely over the lower rail (or pipe). When the rails (or pipes) are closed (by the same principle as the gates used on the end of cars) both together are not more than three inches in width and are folded up against the sign board of the car, the same as an awning. Each car will have two guard rails, one at each side of the car. One will always be in position compelling the passengers to get on or off on the side away from the double track. The rails will be light and ornamental, easily operated; much better than the straps now used, and are not very expensive, either in first cost or in after repair.

Naxt year will be convention year in

Invited to Augusta. Next year will be convention year in Augusta. Already the international meeting of the fire chiefs has been secured, and now efforts are being made to bring the national convention of mail carriers here in 1895. The postmen's association will meet in Cleveland, O., on the 15th of September, and Mr. Horace H. Verdery has been elected the delegate to represent the Augusta carriers. Mr. Verdery is going to the gathering in the Buckeye state and he will carry with him strong resolutions earnestly requesting the association to accept Augusta's invitation. The Mail Carriers' Association is a large and strong order, and it will be a big thing if Augusta can capture it next year.

Hundreds of poetmen from every state in the union attend these annual meetings, and it will attract a large crowd of visitors from a long distance if they will only decide to meet here. Mr. Verdery is hopeful of being successful in his efforts, and he is going to exert himself to make a ten-trike.

If the carriers decide to come they will be heartly welcomed, and will be given a royal reception and be hospitably entertained.

The Young Men's Business League, the city council, the exchange and the Commercial Club will unite and assist the Augusta carriers to bring the convention here by adding their invitation to the association to come.

ATLANTA, GA., August 20, 1804.

Working for the Exposition. The Georgia weekly press is still hard at work for the success of our international exposition. Hardly an exchange from this source is received that does not contain editorial endorsement of the great undertaking. And every editor is urging the people of his section to take an active interest in getting up an exhibit that shall place their country prominently and profitably before the

The exposition articles which we re publish from Georgia weekly newspapers every day show conclusively that there is great enthusiasm among native Georgians, and give every indication of splendid exhibits from Georgia towns and counties.

This is Georgia's opportunity, and the people are quick to see it. The whole world will be represented at Atlanta when the gates of the exposition are opened, and the Empire State will be on her mettle. Nothing should be left undone to make her eclipse her sister states in the fullness and magnificence of her exhibits. The eyes of the world are upon us, and we must acquit ourselves with honor and place Georgia still higher in the estimation of the world.

The exposition movement is having a good effect upon the industries of the state: it has stimulated them, and has renewed the strength of flagging enterprises; it is attracting capital, and even at this early stage its benefits are apparent everywhere.

It is encouraging to note this-to know that the people are so united in the effort to give Georgia and the south an exposition which will reflect creditably on the whole country. The press is doing good work and the people are standing with us. The outlook for the exposition grows brighter every day.

What the Senate Bill Does.

The senate bill is not generally understood. It reduces the average of the McKinley bill to the extent of 11.32. This is a pretty good percentage and is a long step in the direction of reform. Some of the rates are protective but they are lower than under the present The Wilmington Messenger admits the superiority of the senate bill over the McKinley law and says of the

The most doubtful, difficult feature of the ate bill to understand is the sugar tas. It has changed the McKinley law while taxing sugar. Under the McKinley law all sugars not graded above what is called technically 16 Dutch standard are not taxed at all. Those above the 16 grade are taxed at all. Those above the 16 grade are taxed from 12 to 50 per cent ad valorem. Then it gives a snug sum in the way of bounty to home sugar producers. This bounty, we believe, amounts to some $10,000,000 or $12,annually. We have not the figures

The Gorman law changes all this. It taxes sugar and repeals the bounty intended to help and encourage Louisiana cane growers and others. The Baltimore Herald, that sustains the Gorman measure, says that its "rates are from 15.64 per cent on molasses to 46.07 per cent on beet sugar. These rates are clearly protective in comparison either with the bounty paid under the McKinley law or the old schedules in operation before that measure were that operation before that measure went int

The sum to be raised by this sugar tax—a tax levied upon the breakfast table and the pies for dinner—is variously estimated at from $40,000,000 to $48,000,000 each year.
About one-tenth of the sugar consumed in our country is home product. The people have for years enjoyed very cheap sugar.
It will be seen before a year how the Gorman bill will affect the prices of sugars.
Objectionable as this may be the people. Objectionable as this may be, the peo ple are able to stand it, especially when it is considered that they will get hundreds of articles at lower prices than rule now under our present system.

Tariff reform is too big a thing to be perfected in a day, or during one session of congress. It will grow and developand the progress made by the senate bill should encourage every democrat to persevere in the good work. We have taken no step backward, but on the con trary, under the most adverse circum stances, we have made a long leap forward. A tariff for revenue is still in sight.

Unconscious Anarchists. Professor Richard T. Ely must have been astonished beyond measure when he learned that he was accused of being an anarchist. This mild-eyed student spent his time nosing around among our social problems and other perplexities, and then he went to work in his quiet way talking about the rights of spital and the rights of labor.

Of course the professor is no anarch ist. He is simply a well-meaning citizen who is making his protest against certain hard conditions which are visible everywhere. A man can be the apostle of the poor without being an anarchist, or a communist, or a socialist, and Professor Ely belongs to this class.

While the world rolls there will be riches and poverty, power and weak-ness, and all the other contrasts. Anarchy, however, will never have a following here. If all the discontented and desperate classes in America were they would make a very small army, and the law and order loving citizens of the republic would outnumber them more than ten to one.

Professor Ely and others who desire to speak for the darker side of America should not be discouraged. Their mission is fully understood and appreciated, and in the final reckoning they will not be classed with the enemies of society and public order.

Justice Here and There.

It is possible that southern judges stick too closely to the letter of law. In New York the other day a judge who is noted for his severity in orcriminal cases, had man before him who had convicted of forgery. The took into consideration the judge fact that he had spent several months in jail awaiting trial, and the further fact that he was an educated man of refined sensibilities. The money involved in the case had also been refunded.

Did the court send him to prison? Not a bit of it. Sentence was suspended, and the prisoner was admonished to lead a new life.

In such a case the ends of justice were better accomplished than they would have been if this poor fellow had been sent to Sing Sing. The chances are that the man who thus received the clemency of the court will never again stand in the criminal dock. Such an object lesson is worth thinking about.

Will Electricity Dethrone Steam? There is no telling what electricity may yet accomplish, and it is therefore interesting to follow its developments n other countries.

The Albany Argus predicts that within six years the deathknell of steam as a motive power will be sounded. It believes that the storage battery problem is about solved, and this leads The New York Press to say:

This year-1894 has seen the sudden development of the idea of generating electricity cheaply by water power and sending t long distances economically by wire. Va rious experiments in Europe in the last half years, notably the transmissio proved the feasibility of the idea.

The harnessing of the Niagara falls for his purpose has attracted extraordinary this purpose has attracted extraordinary attention, and rightly, for it marked the this purpose beginning of the new era of electricity, but have quietly begun work in the same tion in the past twelve months, and the to soon as there is a demand for it is rough ly estimated at 1,500,000. That figure takes on amazing proportions when one stops to reflect that the total amount of steam horse-power in use in the United States a

It has been proved that electricity can be cheaper than steam can be produced on the spot. The electricians are inclined to think the loss of electricity in transmission to a distance of, perhaps, hundreds of miles car be sufficiently reduced by processes now ready for use to keep the cost below that

Of course, this means an enormous saving to manufacturers, and it is possible that in the course of time railroad companies, farmers and even housewives will adopt the new force. When that day comes how about the problem of the unemployed? We must leave such questions to time. They Are Coming Back.

Good news is being heralded all along the democratic lines in Georgia. A thorough organization of the campaign forces is going on; the speakers are in the field, and are shelling the enemy's camps in the preliminary skirmish; the lines of battle are being laid and the men are marshaling for the great victory. The democrats are in the fight to stay-in the very front of it, and the campaign is an aggressive one.

One of the most notable and suggestive features of the campaign is the desertion of opposing factions-white and black, to the democratic ranks. New recruits, thought to be enemies, are daily coming in and swelling the democratic columns. A glance over the political pages of the state press is sufficient to convince the most skeptical parties that the tide is turning stronger than ever towards democracy. The colored voters of Georgia have at last opened their eyes to the situation. No onger willing to pursue a hopeless fight, they are allying themselves with the democrats-not with verbal promises, but in ringing letters published over their signatures. A striking instance of this is found in the following extract from a card of a leading colored voter of Bulloca county, which was referred to in our political columns gesterday:

I write from a sense of duty which I feel I owe my color and the democrats of our county and state. I have been in sympathy shown to me by their actions that they do not care for us only to get our votes to defeat that great party, the party of the peo-ple, to-wit, the democratic.

This seems to me to be liberty which we have been entitled to since our freedom. It seems to me that every rational man could see the point. Is it to vote for the man the third party says, or men, without allowing. see the point. Is it to vote for the man the third party says, of men, without allowing us to say whom we had rather support? That is not freedom, and I hope our people will take heed and flee from such.

The man who writes the above card does not return single-handed to the democratic party; he brings his friends along with him; and they join the ranks to work intelligently for the success of the party which fosters their best interests and offers them the greatest liberty and protection.

And so it goes. The Statesboro Star, speaking for Bulloch county and the county adjoining it, says that "hundreds of the best element of the populists are returning to the democratic fold. We never pick up one of our exchanges," says The Star, "without seeing an account of some good man coming back home. It now looks like the poor, disappointed office seeker will have to go alone on the excursion up Salt

But the democrats are not "taking their ease" because of this good fortune. They are hard at work, and they will be found working until declared victo-rious. Let the prodigals continue to rebut there is room for all of them. They can help to swell that one hundred thousand democratic majority, which is the beacon that urges us on.

They do not often "buck" against certain defeat By assembling an imposing squadron in Chinese ports the United States would probably gain hitherto unheard-of consideration from the imperial government and establish our prestige more effectively than would be possible in time of peace.

Our fleet in Asia should be heavily reinforced at once.

For a generation or so we have been sending war ships in every direction, without any definite results. At the time of the Virginius affair we sent them to Cuba, but the Spaniards overmatched us. We have sent several tubs into South American waters, but they have never accomplished anything. We now have the best navy that we have had in a generation, and it is time to make our power felt in foreign waters. Our cruisers and battle ships ire needed in the ports of China, and any delay in the matter may cost us the lives of many American missionaries. We need a more vigorous for eign policy. The British should be kicked out of Central America, checked in Venezuela, and in China and Japan our naval supremacy should be made manifest at once.

Proofs that the south is raising its own supplies to a greater extent than ever be-fore multiply on every hand. The Raleigh News and Observer reports that there is much more North Carolina bacon in the markets of that state than ever before Much more beef is also coming to market than formerly. Our contemporary of mends this tendence and urges that it carried still farther. Referring to the an nouncement that 30,000 western draugh horses will be shipped to Richmond and Atlanta for distribution through the south, it says that "the next step is to raise out horses and mules," a business for which thinks North Carolina well adapted.

Says The Richmond Times. "President Waddell, of the Georgia State Agricultural Society, said some interesting things about railroads in the address with which he opened the August meeting of the society a few days ago. 'I positively assert, said he, that the rail-roads have done infinitely more for the so-clety and for the cause of agriculture during the past fifteen years than have the legislatures.' He mointed out that, while they have not received one dollar from the state during that period, the railroads had made large contributions in money, transported county exhibits to and from the state fairs free, had given the lowest possible rates to the fairs, and had furnished free transportation both ways to the dele-gates of the society to the agricultural

"Its Success Assured." From The West Point Progress.
With this recognition of the United States government its success is assured beyond a doubt. The influence of the Cot-ton States and International exposition will be so huge that a flashing thought will not comprehend its magnitude. It will open up immense avenues of trade that have heretofore been in a state of Rip Van Winkleism. It will breathe new life into thousands of industries and start the great south upon an era of prosperity undreamed of. It means for the south millions of dollars and thousands of settlers. Every southern state should, and no doubt will, be well represented in this, the greatest of southern expositions.

Now that the nomination of Judge Bartlett for congress from the sixth district is practically settled. The Pike County Journal has the following editorial in regard to its opposition to Mr. Cabaniss: "When Mr. Cabaniss voted to repeal unconditionally the purchasing clause of the Sherman act this paper said that he had betrayed his trust to the people. Griffin News said the same thing. thing. he 'ch his opinion on the silver question after the election.' Of course he claims that he did right. The Journal said that he did wrong. The issue was tried before the people and Mr. Cabaniss did not receive the endorse-ment of a single county except the one in which he lives, Monroe, and that endorsement was obtained at a somewhat im-promptu mass meeting. Mr. Cabaniss is a man of ability, and the precedent of allowing a congressman a second term was in his favor. Yet he was overwhelmingly de-feated. These facts are referred to not because of a personal spite, not because it is a pleasure to rejoice over the defeat of any man, but because they furnish the opportunity to say that our people propose to hold their public servants to a strict account. If they can act as they please with reference to platform pledges, then we had as well have no platform. Such politics don't work in the sixth congressional district of Georgia."

The following card appears in the current issue of The Statesboro Star, and shows how things are going: "Editor Star-Please allow me a few lines in your paper. I am an old colored man, fifty years old, and have lived in this county for a long time, and after clearly looking at both sides of the present fight, I have decided that it is to my interest, as well as others of my race, to act with the democratic party in this election. SOME SOUTHERN STORIES.

The Park City, Ky., Times says that man has been in that city for a few days who tells a rather sorrowful tale of misfortune. His name is Pierce Smith and he is a Virginian. The story goes that several years ago he was in that section and on passing through stopped to do some work at a farmhouse. He is a land-scape and house painter, and while at work for the farmer lost or had taken from him a one-hundred-dollar bill that he had laid up for a rainy day. He went to the city and reported the matter and succeeded city and reported the matter and succeeded in recovering his money. Then he returned to his home at Giadesville, Va., where he had some property, which he converted into money. He went to work in the mines at that place and loaned the mining company about $1,200. While at work in the mines he was struck on the head by a large shaft and so badly hurt that his mind became unbalarized and he was sent to a lunatic asylum for treatment. After a time his reason was restored and he was released from the institution and city and reported the matter and succeeded atter a time his reason was restored and he was released from the institution and sent back to Gladesville. To his surprise the mining company denied ever naving borrowed any money from him and all his papers had been destroyed and all evidence of the debt obligerated. Among the money leaned the company was the evidence of the debt obliterated. Among the money loaned the company was the $100 bill which he had lost and recovered in Kentucky. It seems that if he can prove that he was the possessor of the bill he will be able to establish the fact of the loan to the company of the $1,200. The bill in question was an old one and had been torn in two and mended. This, with the number and all, makes it easily identified, and his business in Fark City was to see if the bank with which he did was to see if the bank with which he did business and through which the iost pill was returned, could not make affidavit that he owned the bill when in Kentucky. He secured the desired affidavit and other desired evidence and has started have for Gladesville. He walked all the vay from Virginia and started on the return trip on foot. prominent railroaders in Atlanta as last night brought to the Gate City. General Passenger Agent W. A. Turk, Traffic Manager John M. Culp, General Freight Agent Fitzgerald, of the western system; Assistant General Passenger Agent C. A. Benscoter, of the western system, and others came in on the 9 o'clock Georgia Pacific train adding to the distinguished party of officials of the great Southern Railway Company already here.

Thus, there would have been at roll call of the general officers of the Southern a response of present to every name except the names of Sol Haas, assistant to the president, and Sam Hardwick, assistant general passenger agent.

President Sam Spencer, General Counsel F. S. Stetson, Mr. Coster, of Drexel, Morgan & Co.; Second Vice President Andrews, District Counsel Henderson-all were at the Aragon hotel.

Third Vice President Baldwin, General Manager Green and General Manager Hudson were in their private cars down by the Markham house.

Traffic Manager Culp, General Passenger Agent Turk, Assistant General Passenger Agent Benscoter and General Freight Agent Fitzgerald were at the Kimball, Perhaps, the entire force was never so close together before since the reorganization of the southern lines was taken up and the appointments made. The bugle blast of President Spencer could have celled them all into a conference in three minutes. They were in a stone's throw of each other-and it all happened as a sim-

President Spencer and party came to Atlanta to buy the Georgia Pacific, which they added to their territory of southern railroads Saturday. Mr. Baldwin and the two general managers came for a trip of inspection over the Georgia Pacific and Traffic Manager Culp and party reached the city at a late hour from a trip over the new line, and an inspecting tour over the Alabama division of the old East Tennestee Virginia and Georgia.

Going Over the New Line. Now that the Georgia Pacific has been purchased by the Southern it will take its place as one of the regular divisions of the company's territory. Third Vice President W. H. Baldwin a companied by General Manager W. H. Green and General Manager Hudson will leave this morning at 6:45 for a tour of inspection over this line. They will go over the entire mileage, and will make a thorough investigation of the methods of operation as will be most desirable to adopt in running the road directly under the management of the great consolidated system. They will return by way of Atlanta Wednesday night and will then go to Washington to prepare circulars according to the plans they adopt. Thus their trip over the Georgia Pacific and their visit to Atlanta counts for much. All the little details of consolidation will come under their consideration, how to concentrate interests, how to settle upon officers, how to fix schedules and such matters.

"Nothing is known just yet," said Mr. Baldwin to The Constitution last night, "as to what will be done in the matter of shaping up the force on this division. course this trip is for such purposes and will decide the matter, but not until we have finished the inspection and the general investigation will we come to ar clusions whatever, and then we will go to Washington and definitely announce the transaction in circulars which will soon be issued "All this matter of dividing territory among superintendents, of adjusting new schedules and such things will have to go through the regular formal course of business and not until the circulars are issued will the changes, if any, be known. We are ourselves in the dark up to date as to what is to be done as to what is best to be done. The wisdom of the adage, 'Look before you leap,' appeals to us, in this instance, and we are here for the purpose of looking."

Mr. Baldwin is greatly pleased with the way things are jogging along in this section of the south. He evidently has an eye to the merits of railroad men, and can but see what excellent men the Southern is so fortunate to hold here. Some men have their special qualifications for high and responsible positions in this very faculty of knowing desirable subordinates when they see them. Napoleon used to require of all successful candidates for places as his lieutenants that they should have a long nose. Whatever this may have had to do with the case he always had plucky and indomitable men around him. Mr. Baidwin may not have much faith in the nose business, no more than he has in the effect of the full moon upon the successful culmination of the pumpkin crop, but one thing is certain he knows what it takes to be a good railroad man, and he gets them be a good railroad man, and he gets them every time, dead sure.

In this same connection, it is well to state that he has two men with him in the operation of the Southern that are famous all over the state of the southern that are famous all over the state of the southern that are famous all over the state of the s eral hours looking over the place. They were greatly pleased with the outlook and are of the opinion that Atlanta's exposition will, indeed, have beautiful grounds for the big fair. The Southern will co-operate with the city in working up the exposition and will handle the crowds in great shapg to and from the city when the gates of the great exposition are at last opened.

As to the Queen and Cresent.

President Spencer will have no hand in the sale of the Alabama Great Southern and has no eye to the reorganization of the Queen and Crescent.

He refuses to be interviewed about the matter, but says enough to warrant the publication of the fact that he is not going to purchase the lines named.

The Alabama Great Southern is to be sold on the 2d, and on that day Mr. Spencer will be in New York, attending the meeting of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association. He has given it out that the Southern Railway Company really has nothing to do with the Queen and Crescent nor with the Alabama Greaf Southern.

Colonel William Turk Talks.

Colonel William Turk, general passenger agent of the Southern, the man everybody likes because he has a soul that rerenely tallies with the rotundity of his physique, hit the city like a cyclone of wit and good will last night, none the less happy because of the supper he didn't get along the road coming from Alabama.

"Oh, yes," said he to The Constitution as he brushed the dust from the spacious lapel of his coat at the Kimball house cigar stand, "I never let little things like missing supper phase me. A fellow who has been in the railroad business as long as I have never bothers about such trifies. A railroad man can get used to anything, except hanging, perhaps, and I warrant you railroad man can get used to anything, except hanging, perhaps, and I warrant you he could get used to that and bear it with a smile if anybody could.

"What am I here for? Why, I have been over in Alabama in company with Mr. Culp and others looking over the Alabama division of the Southern railway, and we came back over the newly bought Georgia Pacific, that's all. We have no news for the papers. Wish we did. You see news, the papers. Wish we did. You see news, like friends, is not made every day. Would like very much to give you a good story, but really and candidly, there's nothing to tell, my boy.

"You see we have just been running down here over the roads trying to get all the information we could so as to be able a lit-tle later to announce some sort of plan for handling the business that's due us from these sources. Then we may be able to give you a little speck of news—not much, however. It isn't much, after all, to know how folks are running a railroad.

"How long do I stay? Well, I am going to be in Atlanta tomorrow and will go to Washington on the vestibuled train, leav-ing here at high noon. Now, then, I hav-told you all I know in this big world; can't you tell me some news? How about the tariff bill-?"

The door slammed and The Constitution's representative laughed at the versatile rail-roader's breezy conversation as he entered the elevator.

Another Rumor Nailed. Another wildcat rumor that needs to be corrected in the name of legitimate railroad news is to the effect that since the rates were raised by all the roads composing the Southern Railway and Steamship ciation the Queen and Crescent has failed to raise them and is continuing the cut that was in effect a few weeks ago.

It has quite often been said that the cut that was in effect a few weeks ago.

It has quite often been said that the Queen and Crescent would not advance the rates because the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific was in the hands of a receiver and because Judge Taft would not allow the rates to be advanced.

This is veriest nonsense.

If the Queen and Crescent had not advanced rates at the time the other roads did there would have been a great row over it in the association, and the Louisville and Nashville would not have had a pound of freight traffic to handle. It was a fake.

The Board of Police Commissioners in Session This Afternoon.

SENSATIONAL CASES BEFORE THEM

The New Rules of the Police Force Have Been Misinterpreted and Chairman English Explains.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the board of police commissioners will assemble to look into the charge against Patrolman Lyle. It will be a lively meeting. The patrolman will attempt to show by a number of witnesses that the sensational charges he had preferred against the detectives were well founded and prompted by the complaints of number of citizens residing near the place where he claims the officers visited.

On the other hand the detectives will argue that his charges are slanderous and actuated by a certain element of the police force which considers the detective department a nonenity, and which desires to throw suspicion upon them as officers. They will also introduce evidence to show that will also introduce evidence to show that their visits to the house were for profes-sional purposes, as the husband of one of the women has been wanted for several months on a serious charge. They claim also that a thorough investigation was made by Captain Thompson, who reported that he could find no evidence to substanthat he charges made against them.

The whole affair will be well sifted by the board and every detail brought to light.

The case of Patrolman Alderman will also The case of Patrolman Alderman will also be taken up. Several weeks ago Mr. H. Nix, who lives in the same house with the patrolman, reported him for conduct unbecoming an officer, in that while in a state of intoxication he attacked members of his family and behaved in a disorderly way.

Patrolman Dorian, charged with being absent from his beat while on duty, will be given a hearing also.

In the way of business the commissions will consider the bids for the winter uniforms for the patrolmen. There are three bids already in and these will be laid before the board.

About the New Rules.

The new set of rules for the police force have been turned over to the city council and will be acted upon by it at the next regular meeting.

The rule adopted at the last meeting of the commissioners concerning the debts of members of the police force has, to some extent, been misinterpreted. Concerning this Chairman English said Saturday evening:

"The rule does not mean that the mer shall pay all their debts in sixty days. Not does it apply to those debts which were contracted by the policemen before coming on the force. We believe that an officer of the city should not use his position to gain credit and then have no intention of paying what he owes. It is our intention to keep dishonest men from the department and the rule will be strictly enforced.

"Arrangements must be made within sixty days after the debt is made to pay it. Any arrangement will do. A patrol-man can pay so much a month until what he owes is canceled. The rule concerning this adopted by the board is plain: 'W hereby agree to give delinquents sixty days in which to arrange with their creditors and should they fail to do so the fault lies with them, and the rules of the board will be enforced, as to all debts made after the said delinquents are qualified officers of "This is the rule," continued Chairman

Shot at the Burglar. The vicinity of Pittsburg, pear the East Tennessee depot, is being operated by a bold burglar. During the past week several attempts to enfer houses have been made and minor thefts reported. Last night at 10 o'clock a large negro was discovered while in the act of opening a window to the residence of Madame Abbey Howard. The alarm was given and a colored man who lives in the yard caught sight of the fleeing figure in time to fire two shots. Call Officer Beavers went to the place, but the burglar had disappeared.

A Diminutive Thief.

A NARROW ESCAPE

A Gentleman Who Wanted to Try His Horse Nearly Causes an Accident. Some of the horsemen of the city seem to labor under mistaken ideas, that the drive along the side of Lake Abana at Grant park was put there as a speedway or which to exercise their horses. Yesterday afternoon a gentleman was driving a fast trotter drawing a trotting sulky along this trotter drawing a trotting suky along this drive at about a 2:40 gait, when, suddenly a little child started across the road just in front of the fast moving horse. As there is no pavement along there, and the dirt road is perfectly noiseless, the horse gave no warning of his approach, and a thrill of horror ran through every one who saw the child start across the road. A lady standing near saw the impending danger, however, in time to catch the child and snatch it away, thus narrowly averting what would have been a very serious if not a fatal accident. The city ordinance regulating the speed at which horses may be driven in the parks should be more rigidly enforced.

NARROW ESCAPES.

Two Young Atlantians Caught in a Squall Off the Coast.

THEIR FRIENDS THOUGHT THEM LOST

well-known young Atlantians, Messrs. Roger Elliott and Shepard Bryan, have just returned to the city after their ner trip to Morehead City, N. C., and bring back with them the story of a nar row escape from watery graves.

For two days their friends at the hotel thought that they had been lost, and four boats searched for them without avail for nearly an hour, when they were found to be safely snugged away in a couple of government beds at a life-saving station, recovering from their experiences.

But the two young men have not as yet fully recovered from their adventure on the muchly disturbed bosom of the deep in the middle of a vigorous squall. The sailors on the boat, so friends of the two gentlemen say, declare that they were both game and did not evince the east fear, working manfully at the pumps in order to keep the boat from swamping.
It is even said that Roger Elliott, who is best known in connection with the chief clerkship of General Manager J. H. Winder, of the Seaboard Air-Line, remarked to Bryan, as they stepped from the boat, water-soaked and chilled from exposure under the circumstances:

"Shep, one time there I thought you'd have to make my will for me, and I was glad that there was a lawyer aboard."

The young strorney replied instanter:
"Under the surrounding circumstances
a double fee would have been admissible, and I should have required payment in

It was, indeed, a narrow escape for both young men, and they have every cause to feel grateful for a providential interfer-ence, and a near-by life-saving station.

Mr. Elliott's Story of the Squall. "We were out fishing just off Cape Look out. I think we were in a forty-foot boat, which I assure you was several sizes too small when the storm came up. There were three men on board to man it.

"Luck was good and we were pulling in fish at a tremendous rate, when suddenly the storm was upon us. At first it was simply lots of darkness and thunder interspersed with those vivid flashes of lightning you hear so much about. I never realized before how sudden and how real a storm could be. The rain began to pour down in the most veritable of torrents It became darker and darker and the waves began to roll higher and higher pitching and tossing the boat about as if it were a mere chip. Even the bare poles afforded too much surface to the high wind, and every moment it looked as if we must, be swamped. We worked the pumps without cessation, but it seemed to do but little good, though I am sure that if we had stopped a moment we would have been drowned.

"Fortunately the man in charge of the boat knew his bearings, and headed as near as possible in the direction of the life-saving station. Finally, as the storm began to subside, we put on a little sail, and managed to keep the boat from jerking about so much. We headed for the life-saving station, which could be observed by the lights. When we reached it at last, we were taken into the house at the station, given a change of clothing and made thoroughly comfortable. The only bad results that we have experienced nave been a couple of very bad colds. It looked mighty dangerous for awhile, I can tell you." have been drowned.

you."
Messrs. Elliott and Bryan returned to the city yesterday at noon, looking none the worse for their adventure.

Saturday was Atlanta day at the chautauqua, and right royally were the Atlantians treated. Among the many attentions lavished upon them was the chautauqua salute which was given the Artillery when the gallant and full uniformed soldiers marched into the building.

Saturday's programme shone with brillian and entertaining features. Several Atlanta people took part in the exercises, and they sustained themselves most admirably, as Atlantians always do.

LOOKOUT INN,

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN, CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

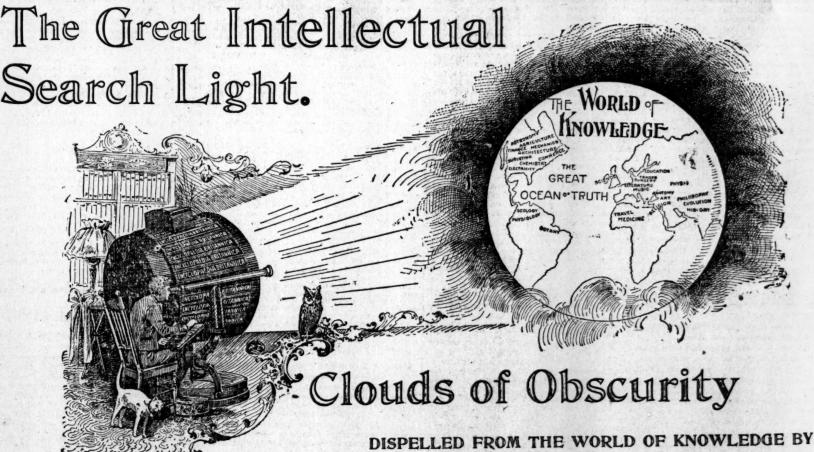

The summit of Lookout Mountain is a broad table land, beautifully wooded, threaded with romantic drives and abounding in mineral springs. The Inn is four stories high. A walk through its main corridor is one-eighth of a mile. It cost one-quarter of a million dollars. Elegance and artistic taste prevail throughout the house. The table is the pride of the south, and is supplied with water from Lenora spring-pronounced the finest in the country.

Its plumbing system was planned and constructed last year by Professor Olcott, of New York, at an expense of $25,000.

Lookout Inn operates the Lookout Mountain Toboggan railway, ten miles in length—the largest toboggan railway in the world. With perfect safety and with thrilling speed the open car descends the famous Lookout mountain, and presents the most wonderful natural panorama of the country. This amusement is the delight of young and old, and is instructive in the military events of this region. It is invigorating and health-giving.

The Encyclopædia Britannica

Sitting in his own room the youth of today can learn practically all there is of any subject, for the Encyclopædia Britannica throws a clear light upon the whole world of knowledge. Piercing through the blue heavens above him he can touch with this light of knowledge the silvery cap of Hycho, the highest mountain of the moon, or he can follow the comet of Halley as it sweeps-by in its orbit of 75 years.

He can don a diver's helmet and examine the tilshes and plants, and study the habits of the monsters that hide among the immersed mountains of the briny ocean, and all the while he is enjoying the safety and comfort of his own fireside. All that man has ever beheld since the creation; all that has been made clear by giant minds, aided by the flights of crained imaginations; histories of all lands in all ages; science in all its branches; foreign countries of modern times, their people and habits, and whatever a careful traveler could observe—all is within the range of his "search-light." He turns upon the world of literature; spends delightful hours with Shakespeare and Goethe; dwells with profit on the careers of renowned men; beholds daring feats of battle; sails through savage seas; penetrates jungles where every line he reads has cost the life of a brave explorer.

Lots of Suits Were Serred by the Sher- Thomson, the Walker, Strikes the Staiff's Office Saturday.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR D. C. LOEB HE FELL ASLEEP ON THE SIDEWALK

The Lee Pharmacy Was Brought Into Court Again-Bale Postponed for Twelve Days.

Saturday was the busiest day of the year with Sheriff Barnes and his deputies.

It was the last day allowed by law for them to serve suits for the fall term, and the genial sheriff and his deputies came near having to run their legs off getting through with the work before them. It was a big task, as a number of the suits were sent up to them as late as half-past 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

"It was an immense return day," said Deputy Sheriff Will Green Saturday afternoon late, as he sat in his shirt sleeves, resting from his day's hard labor. "We had suits in both the city and superior courts to serve, and you may guess the work was heavy."

The friends of Sheriff Barnes who failed to get a cheerful word with him as he passed them at a killing pace Saturday will understand that he was hurrying after some principal in a suit recently filed in Clerk Tanner's office.

Today the criminal branch of the city court commences its monthly grind. The court has been taking a summer vacation for the past two weeks, and things have been quiet. During this quiet pariod a vast number of criminal suits of the smaller kind have accumulated and are ready for trial. Indictments have been taken out for the occupants of the houses on Collins street, but these cases will not be tried until the September term of the court.

Mr. Max Kutz Is a Receiver.

Mr. Max Kuts Is a Receiver, Mr. D. C. Loeb's establishment was placed in the hands of a receiver Saturday afternoon. on a Low Rate Saturday Night.

Ten passenger coaches filled with a struggling, yelling mass of humanity, left for Charleston Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock, over the Georgia rallroad.

The excursion was under the management of a number of rallroad men, and the low fare of £.95 for the round trip attracted over a thousand people. For more than two hours before the train left the crowd began to gather and at 10 o'clock the union de-pot was crowded from Pryor street to Loyd

Police Captain Thompson and Sergeant Ozburn, with a detail of men, kept the struggling mass of people from being killed by the moving freight trains. At the Wall street entrance to the union depot tickets were sold by a committee composed of A. T. Lea, who was one of the originators of the scheme, E. W. Cox, S. L. Hollingsworth and P. L. Tuggle. Each of the men had a big bundle of tickets and a handsatchel to drop their money in. They sold tickets until the train began to move out of

STOLE THE STILL.

The Whisky Making Apparatus Purloined from the Depot.

John W. Gray, of Fayette county, will probably be tried this week on a charge of illict distilling, and the case will be one of more than usual interest for it has several very peculiar features.

On last Wednesday night the home of Gray was raided by Deputy Marshals Scott and Mann. In the cellar of the house they found a still in operation that was complete in every detail. Gray had shown great skill in the arrangement of his still and the find was very difficult to make.

The house of Gray was very near the summer residence of Hon. John T. Glenn and the standing of the man in the neighborhood was the very best. Owing to his prominence, the officers were unusually care-ful in making their investigations. When they raided the place, Gray and a negro man were placed under arrest. They were brought to Atlanta and placed under bonds. The officers took charge of the whisky-making outfit and placed it in the depot, for shipment to the custom house officials

Saturday evening, when the outfit was to Saturday evening, when the outhit was to be shipped, the depot agent could not find it. The still and everything captured by the officers had been stolen. No trace could be found of it and no one has been found who could give any clue to the per-sons committing the theft. Gray had his still located in the cellar. The smoke from it went through a stove pipe in his house. He ran his still only when he had a fire in the room above. He had pipes from a well into his cellar that supplied the water for the still.

Gray has engaged Hon. John T. Glenn to defend him and will make a vigorous fight against his conviction. When the still was raided the officers captured a large quantity of whisky and 500 gallons of beer. The officers say that the entire neighborhood, near Gray's home, or the drinking portion of it, was liberally supplied from his place.

He Is a Little Discouraged, but Starts Out Again Determined to Win the Purse. What He Says.

Yesterday morning a little after 2 o'clock, just as the quiet of early morn was setting in after the heavy rush of Saturday night, a strange figure walked into the side door of the station house. Station Keeper Bonnell stopped short in the midst of an animated discussion upon municipal politics and gazed at the fellow curiously. He wore dark knickerbookers, a small, ventilated straw hat and a heavy sweater, about which was tied a gaudy Scotch plaid

"I'm the man who walks around the world. I'm Henry Thomson," he said. Yer see I'm tired and I'm strapped. I laid down on the sidewalk and I went to sleep, and some bloke woke me up and told me I could get a night's lodging here. How 'bout it?'

"You're a strange looking man. Where'd you come from?" asked Turnkey Cooper.
"Oh, I've been in Atlanta for a day or so,

"I live on the charity of the good people where I go, and during my trip I have fasted forty-eight hours, not being able to get any food. I have been kindly treated on my trip, except coming through the cot-ton country. This convention will afford an excellent opportunity for any person, whether engaged or especially interested in dairying or not, to visit the experiment station that was established a few years ago by the

The inspection of the barn, farm, dairy, etc., by the visitors will be in the nature of a treat to many, and much useful in-formation can be gained by all wno vigit the station.

A reduced rate of one and one-third fares for the round trip has been granted by all the railroads in the state, and every dairyman who possibly can do so, should attend, as the ideas that can be gained by meeting the other dairymen of the state cannot be approximated.

The dairying and stock raising pursuits, although very profitable, have been neglected by the people of Georgia, and it is time that these pursuits should be given the attention they deserve.

Excursion to New York.

The annual excursion of the weekly press ended at 8 o'clock last night, when Hon. Gus Morrow, mayor of Junesboro, once more pressed his foot upon his native heath. He was the rear guard of the excursionists, and came in about three days of schedule.

TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times men and women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they magine, one from dyspeysta, another from heart disease, another from liver or claney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present, alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some delicate or private disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause c. suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better but probably worse by reson of the delay, wrong treatment and sunsequent compilations. A proper treatment given and directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, threby dispelling all those distressing symptoms and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO., who make a true and genuile specialty of delicate and private diseases peculiar to men and women explain their remarkable success to this fact. They study each case thoroughly and direct their treatment to the cause, temove that and make permanent cures. This enables them to Ture where bithers have failed. They are the acknowledged agaders in their specialty.

When one reflects how many hours of labor, how many sacrifices and denials are inclosed within the disc of that shining bit of precious metal we call "dollar." what wonder people hesitate to part with it, except for value received?...... One man goes to albargain store and buys some thing "cheap" (?) half a dozen times a year. Another man goes to a good store and buys something good two times a year. No matter what they pay, the man that goes to the good store gets the best of it, but the fact generally is that the bargain-store man pays more than the other in the long run......In these piping times of keen competition the slicking-up process takes the place of honest work and material. The meeting will not be confined to the officers, the directors and the advisory board of the last assembly, but everybody interested in this work is invited to be present.

Permanent organization may not be per fected at the meeting tonight, but it will be thoroughly discussed. The last assembly was a successful one, and those in charge have every reason to feel proud of their efforts. If the proper encouragement is given to this good work it will receive an impetus that it deserves.

The work of the last assembly will be reviewed and suggestions will be made as to a future programme. All of the last session's numbers were splendid. The single way for above the average chattlestone. ing was far above the average chautauqua singing, and the lectures were every one interesting and beneficial. The brightest speakers in the land were present, and these, with numerous other attractions, made the affair what it was.

May Build an Auditorium. A matter that will receive much considers tion is the one referring to the building

B. & B. Marietta and Forsyth Sts. of an auditorium for future chautauquas.

It is understood that one site has already been offered the board of directors, and that they will put the proposition before the meeting. Among the sites that have been talked of are Ponce de Leon springs, a site on Jackson street, and Brisbine park.

Either of these places would be fine grounds, as there are ample street car facilities. There are two street car lines running to Brisbine park, two near the Jackson street site, while at the last chautauqua the Consolidated street car demonstrated that it was fully completed. strated that it was fully capable of hand-ling the largest crowds that came out. A New Board of Directors.

Another feature that may claim the meeting's attention is the selection of a new board of directors. The directors at present compose a useful body and do good work to-wards keeping the assemblies up to the standard.

The following named gentlemen are offi-cers at present: Givernor W. J. Northen. president; Judge W. R. Hammond, vice president; F. B. Shepard, general business manager; H. T. Trowbridge, secretary; J. P. Ayerill, treasurer; Rev. C. P. Williamson, superintendent of platform.

The advisory board is composed as follows: Governor W. J. Northen, H. H. Cabaniss, T. J. Kelly, Hon. Joseph Hirsch, Hon. J. C. Hendrix, Captain John A. Miller, Judge W. R. Hammond, ex-Mayor W. A. Hemphill, Rev. C. P. Williamson, Hon. R. D. Spaulding and Hon. L. B. Nelson.

AN INTERESTING DEBATE.

An Important Subject Was Discussed by the Saturday Night Club.

A large crowd was present at the regular weekly meeting of the Saturday Night Club, which was held at the Chruch of Our Father, on Church street.

The subject discussed was: "Resolved, They the United States about account.

That the United States should acquire no more territory."

The affirmative side of the question was very ably presented by Messrs, S. B. Towne and Henry Howell, while Messrs. Charles L. Pettigrew and Gordon F. Mitchell very eloquently championed the cause of the negative.

The debate was one of much interest and was listened to with close attention by the large audience which was in attendance. After carefully considering the arguments presented by each side President Andrews gave his decision in favor of the negative. At the close of the debate President before October 2d will receive services free of charge No matter what the name and nature of your disease may be, nor how long standing, co not fail to get their opinion of your case, as it costs you nothing. This benevolent offer is extended to the rich and poor alike. Dr. Soper has had a vast experience, both on land and sea, and is conceded to be stician in the world, frankly tell you. Real faith never grows weak by having to wait. Sufferers taking Hood's Sarsa-parilla for chronic complaints should be patient and the result will be all that can be asked.

i offer to my friends, the citizens of Atlanta and the coal merchants of this and other cities the above coal at wholesale. It is No. 1 grate, steam and blacksmith coal. I have burnt it and consider it equal to any bituminous coal I ever used. It is very hard, does not slack, no clinkers, little dust or smoke; all will burn to a white sah. For economy and comfort I solicit a trial. One firm in Memphis contracted last season to take 200 tons per day; also one in New Orleans 125 tons per day. It was retailed at prices equal to Pittsburg No. 1 coal. I wish agents in other cities to sell this coal by the carload and retail, having four railroads I can ship over, freight the same. The company owns the mine and ships direct. The price of this coal will be very low to suit these tight times, for cash, or credit to the 1st of the following month, with bank references.
